

In response to your letter dated August 25, 2006, the July report has been amended to reflect corrections of clerical errors regarding which elections the PAC's contributions were distributed for. Due to clerical mistakes in reporting, several contributions given for use in the general election were reported as given for use in the primary elections. These errors have now been corrected.

Regarding the PAC's administrative expenses, the PAC pays fees to Christopher Hogin and John Duncan III to administer the PAC. These fees include normal administrative expenses to which your letter references. These expenses were incurred during the reporting periods in which payment was made and have been properly disclosed.
